

May Kindergarten Newsletter

Aloha Families!

The end of the school year is quickly approaching! The students have worked so hard this year and have put a lot of effort into growing academically and socially. Please remember to review all that we did over the summer, such as reviewing the letters, sight words, recognizing numbers to 100, putting groups together, simple subtraction, handwriting, and reading. For those of you not returning to Lanikai next year, we wish you the best of luck. Have a fun and safe summer!

Curriculum

In April, the students began putting small groups together and taking small groups apart. They also have been working on writing for a variety of purposes. They also study the similarities and differences of plants and animals. We also talked about offspring on people and animals. In social studies we discussed different April holidays and began investigating maps.

Weeks to Come

In May, the children will continue working on writing using appropriate letter formation, capital and lowercase letters, finger spaces, and punctuation. They will also continue reading at their level and begin reviewing the phonograms that are heavily studied in first grade. In math, they will continue working on addition and subtraction skills. The students will also review numbers 0 to 100. In science, we will be investigating the universe and how it works. They will also investigate the Summer season. In social studies the students will be studying the Hawaiian Islands, Mother's Day, Boy's Day, and Father's Day.
